

Special Notes

Nearby Exits

These weigh stations have exits off the interstate before reaching the site. If drivers take this exit, they must report to the weigh station before reentering the interstate, even if a green light appears on the PrePass transponder or PrePass mobile app.

Maine, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York and North Carolina

Enrolled carriers must provide PrePass with a photo image that represents the tractors (power units) in their fleet. Without an image in the system, drivers will receive a red light directing them to pull into the weigh station.

West Virginia

Carriers transporting hazardous waste and/or materials through West Virginia, in quantities that require placarding, must possess an Alliance for Uniform Hazmat Transportation credential. Drivers must follow the in-cab signal and disregard the state signs to pull into weigh stations.

Changeable Message Signs

Drivers in PrePass-equipped trucks (with a transponder or the PrePass Mobile App) should disregard electronic road signs and follow the signal on their in-cab device at the following locations:

Arizona	Ehrenberg EB: I-10 San Simon WB: I-10 Sanders WB: I-40 Topock EB: I-40
Delaware	Middletown NB: US-301

Bypass at these sites requires a separate application and approval.

Important Information for PrePass Bypass Customers

This document lists restricted cargo types for each PrePass state where bypass is available. When approaching a PrePass-equipped weigh station, you must pull in if your cargo meets any of the restricted criteria listed for that state, even if you receive a green light on your transponder or the PrePass Mobile App.

Carriers should keep this pamphlet in their vehicles as a quick reference. Failure to voluntarily pull in when hauling restricted cargo may result in prosecution, fines, and/or suspension of bypass privileges.

If drivers do not receive a bypass signal, they must pull into the weigh station. If using multiple preclearance devices, drivers must obey any red light to pull in.
